Steering Committee joined at 7:30: Sharon Hildebrand, James Coy and guests Jim Buck and Casey Butler

Susan went through agenda items for the Wednesday January 22nd TWNA meeting and some general information.

- The Eau Claire Neighborhood Association will hold their annual meeting on Thursday January 22nd at 5:00pm at the Senior Center. Susan, Peter, Jackie and Marian will attend.
- We had a chance to look over the Welcome Brochure being developed for the TWNA by Jim. We made some suggestions and are very impressed with this project. Thank you Jim!
- We had a chance to discuss the Facebook and Instagram posts that Casey has done and again are very impressed with the quality of work. Thank you Casey!
- Steve Betchkal and Master Gardener Ellen Terwilliger will be at the January meeting talk about future plans for the Pollinator Garden at Demmler Park.
- The April 8th meeting will have a speaker from the Wisconsin State Historical Society to explain the process and benefits of registering your home.
- Susan shared an update on the Drummond House. There is so much damage from the water and now all the weather without a roof that the cost to rebuild looks to be prohibitive. No decisions made just yet but a very sad situation.
- In an attempt to encourage more volunteers, we will have sign-up sheets at the January 14 meeting for the events we know we have.
 - Home Tour
 - Thrift Sale
 - Annual Picnic In The Park
 - Eau Claire Marathon

We also are in the process of generating new ideas

- Movie Night
- Neighborhood Bike Ride
- Neighborhood Trolley Adventure - partially subsidized by TWNA
- Bark In The Park - a get together with our pets
- Pollinator Garden
